

SENIOR CONSULTANT – CORPORATE TRANSACTIONS AND SERVICES (M&A EHS DD & ESG)

At Anthesis Lavola we are the team that activates change!

Our goal? We have it clear! We work towards a more resilient, sustainable and just world. To achieve this and activate change, we develop and put into action various services and products designed to create a positive impact on people and their environment.

If, like us, you are also passionate about environment and you believe that it is the key to achieving a more sustainable society and planet, read on because Anthesis Lavola is your team!

Join the Transactions and Finances team and help us achieve an important challenge:

Guide companies on their path to sustainability, familiarizing them with new concepts and regulatory and legislative frameworks, so that we can increase their commitment and the activities that lead them to the achievement of the new Sustainable Development Goals successfully.

How will you add value to the team?

Once you join our Transactions and Finances team, your challenges and responsibilities will be as follows:

- Carrying out environmental assessment projects that assess the possible risks of environmental responsibility and the operational and compliance status of organizations, in particular Environmental, Health and Safety Due Diligence (EHS DD).
- Carry out environmental compliance assessments in industrial and commercial facilities and implement corrective monitoring actions to ensure compliance with current European, national and local regulations.
- Carry out research related to ongoing projects; collect and analyse data; write reports and technical documents with the available information.
- Coordinate projects to assess the environmental, social and corporate governance and sustainability of companies (ESG) in transactional processes for clients in the financial sector.
- Support in the preparation of content for proposals and marketing materials.
- Collaborate with sustainability experts and global technical consultants from Anthesis Group, not only to deliver large projects but also to support the development of new service areas and innovative products for our customers.

The characteristics of the vacancy

- Your contract will be indefinite.
- You will work full time with a flexible schedule distributed from Monday to Thursday from 8-9h to 17-18h and on Fridays your day will be intensive, from 8h to 15h.
- Our work model is hybrid and flexible, you will enjoy both the benefits of teleworking and working in our offices in Madrid, Barcelona or Manlleu.
